TOURISM TAKEN TO TOWNSHIPS

A tourism awareness road show was held to promote tourism in the city's most underprivileged areas. This initiative was undertaken by the Buffalo City Municipality and its partners as part of Tourism Month. Communities were informed about the importance of tourism and the role each community could play in promoting the industry. The aim of the road show was to invite communities to participate in tourism and make them feel that they are part of this important industry.

According to the municipality, international tourists often visited these areas to learn about their rich history. Despite this, the locals did not understand the value of having international tourists in their areas. Councillor Luntu Bobo said: '... this, then, becomes a wasted opportunity. We need to have bed and breakfasts in these areas so that some of these tourists can spend the night there and experience the things they learn about our townships and rural areas.'

The city also wants to involve all communities in developing tourism. They have programmes that aim to train the people in ways in which they can use their skills to benefit from tourism.

[Source: www.southafrica.net]

QUESTION 4

4.1 Read the extract below and answer the questions that follow.

Molatedi Community Village

COMMUNITY ECOTOURISM

Thakadu River Camp has been awarded a certificate for demonstrating fair and responsible tourism development in South Africa. Thakadu is a five-star, community-owned, tented safari camp within the Madikwe Game Reserve in the North West. Thakadu is an ecotourism partnership between North West Parks, the Molatedi community and the Madikwe Collection. This partnership concept is an innovative (new) approach to community development in South Africa, whereby (in the case of Thakadu) the community owns the assets. This means that the Molatedi community has a 45-year lease to operate a commercial lodge within the Madikwe Game Reserve. The concept is unique in South Africa because the community owns the development with substantial benefits and profits in terms of economic gain as well as skills development. This approach to socio-economic development is consistent with the objectives of the people of the local area. They believe that not only should the environment be preserved (looked after), but sustainable jobs should be created by this development. The community is now in partnership with Madikwe Game Reserve in conservation efforts to protect the environment and the wildlife of the reserve.
