(21) Document retrieval

(a) One week before the examinations commence, schools [will] must receive a disk or related storage media [with] containing the documents (data files/folders) for retrieval on the day of the examination.

(b) The responsible teacher must make a backup copy of this storage media immediately and determine if he or she can access the files. Thereafter, the original and the backup storage media is placed in safekeeping with the principal of the school. Any problem with accessing the files must be reported to the assessment body immediately.

(c) It is the task of the responsible teacher to save this information on the network or on the hard drives of individual computers, or to prepare an individual disk for each candidate, one day prior to the commencement of the examination. Examination centres must then be off limits to candidates or any other learners or teachers on this day.

(d) It is essential that each [candidate's disk folder] is carefully prepared a day before the examination session commences.

(e) The teacher must ensure that each candidate has an electronic folder [disk or storage medium is] clearly marked with [the] that candidate's examination number and the centre number.

(f) Candidates may, under no circumstances, have access to [these files] the examination data (folders/files) prior to the examination.

(22) All security processes must be carried out under the supervision of the chief invigilator.

(23) Schools will be permitted to run a maximum of two consecutive sessions of computer practical examinations per day. The necessary precautions must be taken in order to prevent any communication between candidates in the two groups.

(24) No cellphones, manuals and/or electronic documents are allowed inside the examination centre, unless otherwise specified by the Department of Basic Education and the assessment body.

(25) Candidates may use the help functions on the computer.

Where candidates may have visible access to adjacent computers, dividers between workstations must be set up.

5. Procedure during the examination session

   (1) Invigilators play a vital role in ensuring that no copying of any kind takes place. Therefore, it is crucial that [the minimum] all supervisory requirements are strictly adhered to.

   (2) The additional assistant used at the end of the session (last 30 minutes of the session) must assist with printing (if required) and verifying that candidates’ files are written to CDs/DVDs and [that the] are saved correctly and ensure that all candidates' files/folders saved on the CDs/DVDs can [open] be accessed afterwards. In the event of stand-alone computers, invigilators must use flash drives to retrieve all candidates’ work from the individual workstations. Invigilators must ensure that no editing or keying in takes place after the examination time has elapsed.

   (3) Candidates should save their work at regular intervals, e.g. every 10 minutes. In addition, auto save recovery options should be set to every five minutes.

(4) If candidates wish to do the speed endorsement, they will do so at the beginning of the examination session.
A Computer Applications Technology and/or Information Technology teacher will be present to manage the time of the session in accordance with keyboarding rules.

The principals or centre managers and chief invigilators should be informed of the fact that a timed accuracy test will be conducted.

Although the instructions to invigilators state that no candidates may be admitted to the examination room earlier that ten minutes before the examination is due to start, candidates for the timed accuracy test must be allowed into the examination room earlier in order to practice on their computers and to get the computers ready for the examination.

Candidates must, however, terminate these activities fifteen minutes before the examination commences.

Candidates must be allowed fifteen minutes to read the instructions on the examination question paper and to prepare themselves for the timed accuracy test.

Immediately after the timed accuracy test has been completed, the answers must be printed and the invigilator must sign after the last printed word on each page.

Only one printout per candidate is allowed for the timed accuracy test. The candidates may leave the room only after the invigilator has ensured that all candidates have printed the timed accuracy test.

Candidates may use the spell-checker during the course of the timed accuracy test.

If a power failure occurs during the examination, the following procedure should be followed:

1. Candidates are to remain in the computer room until the power supply has been restored or two (2) hours have elapsed.

2. Candidates may not communicate with each other while waiting for the power supply to be restored.

3. The time lost during the power failure should be allowed as additional examination time.

4. If, after two hours, the power supply has not been restored yet, the examination should be rescheduled.

5. The Department of Basic Education and the assessment body should be informed of the power failure immediately.

6. When a power failure occurs, the centre manager should inform the local authorities immediately. He or she should also ascertain, if possible, how long the power failure is likely to last.

7. The disks with the work completed by the candidates are to be handed in and submitted to the assessment body.

8. In the case of an examination being cancelled due to a power failure, the candidates should write the backup examination question paper on another date.

9. In the event where two examination sessions are scheduled during an examination, namely in the morning and afternoon, the above procedure applies to both sessions.

   (c) [These printouts must be destroyed after the conclusion of the examination.] In certain instances, candidates may print their work to show evidence of work done, in the case of software failure. This must then be submitted with a letter giving an explanation as to what happened.
   (d) No printouts are allowed to leave the examination room.

8. In the event where two sittings per day take place, the following procedure must be followed-

   (1) The responsible teacher will divide the candidates into two groups.
   (2) Group 1 will complete the examination during the first sitting and Group 2 will complete it during the second sitting.
   (3) Candidates in Group 2 must meet at least one hour before the end of the first sitting. They will be [invigilated] supervised and escorted to the computer room before the start of the second sitting and after all the candidates from the first sitting have left the computer room.
   (4) No candidate may leave the examination room before the end of the examination session.
   (5) No contact between the two groups is permitted during either of the two sessions.

9. Responsibilities of candidates-

[(8) The second disk or other storage media should be used as backup for each candidate.]

10. After the practical examination session, the following procedure must be followed-

(1) The responsible teacher must make two (2) backup or duplicate copies of candidates' work on relevant storage media. One [backup] disk must be send to the marking centre and one [two (2)] disks must be kept at the school.

(2) After each CD/DVD has been written, the invigilator/teacher must ensure that all folders/files can be accessed and opened.

[(2)][3] Printouts [(optional)] required and disks must be handled in the following way-

(a) Each printout must have the candidate's examination number inserted as a header.

(a) Check that the printouts of a candidate are in the correct order, if applicable. Only one printout per question must be submitted.

(d) Organise all folders numerically and place them in a marked box/bag.

(e) Answers to questions will be marked from the disks or storage media, therefore it is essential that disks or storage media reach the marking centre intact.

11. All CDs/DVDs must be verified for completeness and accessibility of all files/folders by the assessment body BEFORE the marking commences."

indicate the names and examination numbers of the candidates entered for the particular examination in numerical sequence. On each sheet there is a column to indicate present/absent and a column for the candidate’s signature. The candidate signs the attendance register personally- just printing the first letters of the names and surname does not constitute signing or initialling the form.

(2) Once the examination has settled and all the examination material issued to the candidates, the invigilator must ensure that no candidate signs the attendance register and vacate the examination venue as this will cause an irregularity. The invigilator may take the register on a clipboard from candidate to candidate to sign as they are seated in the room or hall. Under no circumstances may the register be passed from candidate to candidate while the examination is in progress.

(a) The attendance register must be signed by every candidate present for a specific examination session and ticked (✓) in the column with * above it.

(b) Absentees must be indicated with the letter “A”
alongside the name and examination number of the candidate in the column with * above it.

(c) The attendance register must be returned with the candidates’ answer scripts to the distribution point – each attendance register with the names candidates must be placed on top of the batch of answer books of these particular candidates listed on the attendance register, with the wrapper placed around the answer books and register of that particular batch. The list of absentees completed by the Chief Invigilator must correspond with the attendance register.

(d) Invigilators must ensure that candidates sign in the correct space in the attendance register and that absentees are correctly indicated.
In cases where a candidate insists on writing a different examination question paper other than the one registered for (e.g. Home Language instead of First Additional Language), the candidate must not sign the attendance register where his or her name appears as he or she is not writing the particular subject. The following must be written next to the name of the candidate in the attendance register, “IRR”. A candidate is then required to sign an attendance register for irregularities form indicating the subject he or she is actually writing.

(3) The attendance register contains the names of the candidates, and will therefore not be available to markers at the marking centres. At the marking centre, the official mark sheet will be used that only reflects the candidates’ examination numbers. It is therefore imperative that the correct transferring of “✓” or “A” is done at the office when the examination scripts are received.”.

(i) the insertion of paragraph 11 of Annexure I following paragraph 10-
"11. Absence of candidates

(1) If it is the policy of chief invigilators to paste a label on the desks of candidates indicating their names and examination number, etc., the candidate’s contact telephone number should be written on the label to enable the school/centre to contact the learner in a case of an emergency. Alternatively, an updated list of each candidate’s contact telephone numbers should be kept available in the examination room.

(2) Should a candidate not present him or herself on time for an examination, the missing candidate must be phoned to ascertain the reason for his or her absence.

(3) Should a candidate miss an examination without a valid reason, he or she will not be allowed to write a supplementary examination the following year, and the candidate will not receive a result.

(4) Candidates may only miss an examination, supported by documentary evidence, for the following reasons:
   (a) illness (A valid medical doctor’s certificate required);
   (b) family bereavement (Letter required);
   (c) attending an initiation school (Letter required);
   and
   (d) representing the country or province in a sporting or cultural event (Official letter required).

(5) The doctor’s certificate or letter must be handed in to the chief invigilator within seven (7) days. Any supporting documents handed in must contain the candidate’s examination number, candidate’s surname and names must correspond with the registration details. The candidate must ensure that he/she registers for the supplementary examinations.

(6) The following procedures must be followed:
   (a) The word ‘Absent’ must be written in the attendance register alongside the candidate’s name.
   (b) Particulars of the candidate must be filled in on the absentee form.
   (c) The medical certificate or the letter from the family or organisation and a letter from the Head of the institution, validating the candidate’s absence must be attached. A copy of the medical certificate must be kept and attached to the supplementary examination entry form.
   (d) Documents must then be sent to the District/Regional Office where an official will forward them to the Provincial Head Office.”.

(j) the insertion of paragraph 14 of Annexure I following paragraph 13-

For example, the concession approved will appear on the timetable as follows: “Writing problem: Additional Time: 5 minutes per hour.”
   (b) Invigilators may not deviate from these instructions on the admission letter. This must not be used as a guide for a candidate with a similar problem who was not granted a concession or who did not apply for a concession.
   (c) Where concessions have been granted, excluding additional time, (e.g. language concessions for the deaf, aural impairment, Braille papers, visual impairment, spelling and writing problems, alternative questions, attention deficit problems), an examination form of the province must be completed and attached to the candidate’s answer book together with a copy of the candidate’s admission letter.

(5) The official sign language interpreter must-
   (a) Obtain the examination question paper when the box is opened and must read through the documents to prepare him or herself to sign for the examination question paper.
   (b) Transcription must take place immediately after the examination question paper has been completed.
   (c) The candidate must be available after the examination to clarify any part of the written record.
   (d) The scribe should not be the subject teacher or be related to the candidate.
   (e) The original script must be attached to the transcription and both must be submitted.
   (f) Transcribing must not take place in the examination room. A separate, suitable room should be provided.
   (g) The scribe and a candidate must each receive a copy of the examination question paper and the errata sheet where applicable.

(6) With the exception of learners with barriers to learning and development, the only concession that is likely to be granted to a candidate in a mainstream school is that of additional time (extra minutes for every hour of the examination), or the use of a typewriter or computer.

(7) Chief invigilators who may need clarification concerning special concessions or training on the conducting of special concessions for candidates, should contact the coordinator of their District/Region Examinations Concessions Committee (DECC). Should it become necessary for a candidate to be assessed in an alternative way owing to an injury sustained before or during the examination, an application in this regard, accompanied by a medical report, should be submitted to the District Examination Concession Committee coordinator.”.
