1. INTRODUCTION

The Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statement (CAPS) for Business Studies outlines the nature and purpose of the subject Business Studies. This guides the philosophy underlying the teaching and assessment of the subject in Grade 11.

The purpose of these Examination Guidelines is to:

- Provide clarity on the depth and scope of the Business Studies content to be assessed in the Grade 11 Examination in Business Studies.
- Assist teachers to adequately prepare learners for the examinations.
- Guide examiners to assess content that was taught at the prescribed level.

This document deals with the mid and final year Grade 11 examinations. It does not deal in any depth with the School-Based Assessment (SBA).

This guideline should be read in conjunction with:

- The National Protocol of Assessment: An addendum to the policy document, the National Senior Certificate: A qualification at Level 4 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF), regarding the National Protocol for Assessment (Grades R–12)
- The national policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement, Grades R–12.

NOTE:

1. It must be emphasised that teachers should not only focus on content, but also link it to the cognitive levels (low, middle and high order thinking) in their teaching and assessment. Teachers are encouraged to consider the following five aspects when teaching and assessing all topics and sub-topics:

   - What? (nature, purpose and knowledge) [low order]
   - How? (skills, knowledge and values) [low and middle order]
   - Why? [middle and higher cognitive levels are stimulated when forming an opinion]
   - Is it working/successful/good/bad? (evaluation/critical analysis/impact [high order] is addressed)
   - Recommendations for improvement, where applicable.

2. The above aspects will guide teachers to set/design formal assessment activities that will address all cognitive levels. Learners are equipped to respond to questions/tasks that require different levels of cognitive thinking and difficulty.

3. ALL assessment tasks (informal and formal) should contain questions/instructions that cover all cognitive levels that range from simple to complex e.g. list/outline/identify/discuss/ Analyse / critically evaluate/suggest/recommend/devise.

4. The cognitive verbs indicated in this guideline are simply a guide. Teachers and examiners may use other verbs that are relevant to the nature and context of the question in order to increase/decrease levels of cognitive thinking and difficulty.

  o Contemporary theory
- Select one of the above mentioned conflict management theory and justify the reason why businesses should use this theory to solve business problems.
- Outline/Mention/Explain/Discuss the function of workplace forums.
- Explain the differences between trade unions and workplace forums.

Knowledge of this topic should enable a learner to answer in short paragraphs/longer and essay type questions.

Types of questions:
Questions based on case studies/scenarios should include direct/indirect short and essay questions, covering all three cognitive levels.

Additional resources
Teachers and learners must use recent business news from the media (newspapers/radio/TV/magazines) to stay informed about the various (and latest) methods that businesses apply to resolve conflict in the workplace, as well as the advantages of team work.

Make notes using different resources and textbooks.
Note:
The ‘Term’-column indicates the term in which a topic is to be covered as per the CAPS document. The main topics are numbered from 1 to 4, e.g., Business Environment (1), Business Ventures (2), Business Roles (3) and Business Operations (4) to simplify the layout of the document.
GUIDELINES FOR ANSWERING THE BUSINESS STUDIES QUESTION PAPER

Planning and organisation is extremely important. A well-planned work schedule/study timetable will ensure the completion of the curriculum which will adequately prepare learners for the end-of-the-year examination.

Preparation for quality responses
- Use the above-mentioned resource materials to prepare learners for answering different TYPES of questions.
- Remember that each TOPIC can be tested with objective, short, paragraph or essay type questions.
- An essay question may include a combination of topics and subtopics.
- Take careful note of the ACTION WORDS/VERBS used in the question, e.g.:
  - List/Name/State means learners should provide direct answers without discussion.
  - Discuss/Evaluate/Explain/Describe/Justify (or other higher cognitive verbs) means learners must give more information on the fact(s) they have listed/named/stated. Give reasons, examples etc. to substantiate the answer.
- Familiarise learners with the Notes to Markers included in NSC question paper memoranda. Refer particularly to the NSC Notes to Markers (November 2018 and later), as there were some adjustments regarding the mark allocation in SECTION B (with questions containing case studies) and SECTION C (synthesis).
- When analysing topics and subtopics, study the last column (a guide to core content).
- The mark allocation will determine the length and time to be spent on the question.
- Learners will be penalised if the numbering of questions is incorrect. This is applicable to all the sections of the paper.
- Learners must keep abreast of current developments in legislation and the industry to be able to provide recent examples in order to obtain marks for originality in essay questions. Originality should not be seen as a separate section in an essay type question, but rather as an example that will either strengthen a point made, or enhance the discussion of the topic of the essay.

TYPES OF QUESTIONS

SECTION A
Multiple-choice, matching, choosing the correct concept/terminology, etc. (objective questions):

These types of questions require learners to have a thorough knowledge of the subject and they have to exercise logic and good insight.

The recommended approach to multiple-choice questions is to read and analyse the statement carefully. Thereafter, study the alternatives carefully and eliminate the incorrect options. Review the remaining possible answers and choose the correct one.

SECTION B
Paragraph style, case studies and source-based questions – shorter type questions:

- Learners must read and understand the information presented.
- Questions can be direct or indirect. These include source-based questions and case studies.
- Learners must possess a broader/deeper understanding of the broad topics and sub-topics to be able to substantiate, motivate, give reasons, justify, evaluate, etc.
- Learners will be required to provide their opinion, solve problems and make recommendations related to the question.
- Questions range from easy to difficult in terms of cognitive levels and levels/degrees of difficulty. (TAKE NOTE of the revised Bloom’s taxonomy.)
SECTION C
Longer/Essay type of questions

Learners must be able to organise information on a topic systematically and logically to be able to evaluate/analyse/motivate/suggest/recommend and elaborate on topics extracted from given case studies, scenarios etc. Learners must enhance or support their answers/viewpoints with recent examples to obtain marks for originality.

Learners must be familiar with words, such as ‘challenges’ and ‘areas of concern’, so that they are able to identify challenges in the case studies and to make recommendations. It is imperative that learners do not associate the word ‘challenges’ only with business environments or ‘areas’ only with geographical regions.

ESSAY-TYPE QUESTIONS CONSIST OF:

1. Introduction
2. Core Content – Body (headings, subheadings, paragraphs). FULL SENTENCES must be used, but they may be bulleted, where applicable. maximum including the introduction and body.
3. Conclusion (Learners give their opinion in response to the question/statement)

The mark allocation for an essay-type of question is generally as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CONTENT</th>
<th>MARKS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Facts</td>
<td>32</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>40</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Mark allocation for ANALYSIS
All headings addressed: 1 (One ‘A’)
Interpretation (16 to 32 marks): 1 (One ‘A’)

Mark allocation for SYNTHESIS:

1. Indicate TWO ‘-S’ (‘minus S’) marks, if no relevant facts were given. NO synthesis marks will be awarded.
2. Indicate ONE ‘-S’ if some irrelevant facts were given. ONE (1) synthesis mark will be awarded.
3. Indicate NO ‘-S’, if ONLY relevant facts were given. Award TWO (2) marks for synthesis.

NOTE:
Higher-order questions can be drawn from the contents prescribed in the CAPS document. This can take the form of application-type questions, e.g. correlation with practice, justification with reasoning, make predictions, suggest improvements, compile reports, provide recommendations, deduce, establish, evaluate, apply, etc. Note the action verbs that are used in the Examination Guidelines and CAPS document.

4. CONCLUSION

This Examination Guidelines document is meant to articulate the assessment aspirations espoused in the CAPS document. It is therefore not a substitute for the CAPS document which teachers should teach to.

Qualitative curriculum coverage as enunciated in the CAPS cannot be over-emphasised.
